He says that the Deminionn authorities made the first proposals, and pressed an exation on him before he had looked in to the metter, or formed any opinion so to the appellencey or familility of the pra-ject. He finally cont confidential mananters down there to make a secret examin spect the resources and sapabilities of the stend, the civilization of the people, the character of the government, the hind and amount of debt, and everything size of use in forming a correct opinion. It was no mengers had reterned and fully reported the result of their examin at he consented to listen to the als of the Domingana. Then h ral Babecck down again, and realy, on is already known, was nego thred. The republic ower but $1 500,000, which is the price we agree to my for annexation. When asked if he is certain that the debt is no larger of the fact that this figure covers the What claims may be tramp of up against St. Domings he knows no carea less, for the reason that, unde to treaty, it incorpressly stipulated the it be held to their payment. He thinks it likely some claims may be pre ated, and says such of them as are prove nel cidure the two bine ed tener been of the island. He regards the stories about a concelled date of filters or twenty Millions as emanating from foreign sour m, which are jealous, envisus and secretly en and to our acquisition of what he reas the finest of the West India is anda. stimates at less than 260,000, and he aping them and preserving order. The says, pointing to the result of the recent electron, are nearly all anxious last and laws. They are tired and sick, omestic discord, and gladly had the Lesy ero drawn to us, he adds, by affec tion and sympathy on account of our en-frachisements of the colored race here, mi repose implicit faith and confidence ? dessions of jastice and equal rights.

Of the natural resources of the island the President speaks to glowing terms saying they cannot will be excepterated, and under this head he presents many figures to eastnin his view. He is informed that the soil is very rich and pro duces all the fruits of tropical latitudes in great abundance. He believes that in ten are after annexation the exports of the island would exceed in value $100,600,600 a year. Our people, he argues, would quickly go down there, open plantations, call various minerals from the island be great, and that before the end of twen-Cabe. The laws of all the West India Talando are iminatosi to the interests of our country, but once we get a feethold down changes, so that in a little while trade involved from the standpoint of the Mon me doctrine, we cannot refuse to receiv the telend now that it is effered to us by the shaest unanimou voice of its inhabitents, that if we reject their evertures there is danger they may turn to Britain to obtain peace and protection and if they go, we shall have no right to resist interference by that power. He believes one of the next works of the world canal, thinks our country will not be likely halfle that a station of our own in the West Indice is essential to the usual project if we hope to derive from it such ben-efits as we should.

He slee thinks it very important from t naval and military point of view, to secure this strenghold in the midst of the West Indies, and says it would be a great blunder in statemenship to throw away this epportunity for gutting it on favorable terms. Our week point, he argues, is the Gulf Coost, and while he does not anticipate any war, he thinks we should take he island as an outpost against any possi ble danger. He seemed to convey the idea that in his view we are sometime to have all the West India islands under our flag. and added that it would be folly to reject the best one of them all when we can get it so advantageously.

not ask an extension of time on the treaty, but adheres to the hope that some step in behalf of annexation may yet be taken the Senate. He says he has worked hard to show Senstore its advantages, and expresses the opinion that everybody would be in favor of it if they clearly understood BY TELEGRAPH all the facts as he does. He would doubt-less heartily approve a project to send a eressional commission or even a steame oad of congressmen down there on a tour inspection, and it is by no means certain that some such movement as this may not be proposed in the Senate by friends of the treaty before the end of the session

The Broad Guage. Atterney General Allen of Massachu-setts, speaking against the proposed fur-nishing of further aid to the Boston, Hurt-ford and Eric Ralirond Company, said;

"The advocates of the broad guage the ery of late years have been pretty ranch entitled to its unfortunate rictims. The sairs weight of its rolling stock in propor-tion to the lead carried, raises the propor-tion of non-paying tonunge; and the frie-tion due to the curve is lengely in excess of that upon the narrow gungo. In some tion due to the curre is largely in passes of that upon the narrow guage. In some foreign countries, where such property is prescoted from competition, the broad guage reads are prosperous; but where they come in open competition with the narrow guage, bankruptcy is the rule to which there is hardly an exception. Of the two thousand miles of broad guage road is this country, I know of but one road in this country, I know of I line that is not hopelessly banken that makes two or three per centrying its through frieght on a guess, for which it has had down rail. Without the third rail it whenkrups as the rest of them."

OFFINION OF JUJOUR GRIER.

As I write with difficulty I can only state the conclusions to which my mind has come after a careful examination of this case.

The complainant has exhibited a patent dated little april, 1800. This is prime facile evidences of them of proof that the patent is void or worthbees. I need not repent my remarks in the case of Goodycar vs. Day (2 Wall, C. C. Rey, 2091, butnow adopt them as effording a rule of decision which applies detailed to the present case.

As the infringement of the patent is admitted, the only question will be as to the validity of complainant apartner of April 29, 1801, been reduced to precioes, and after repeated experiments, that the complainant succeeded in overcoming the prejudice and ignorance of the people on the sub-corporation called "The Recet Torpical Company, to be the purpose of piroting the complainant's invention and supporting the expense of litigation, and thus defined him of its fruits.
